THREE months after the general elections, the Mapai Knesset representation is today losing its foremost legal expert, the former Attorney-General, Mr. Yehoshua Shapira, who has tendered his resignation at the end of the last Knesset session a week and a half ago. They are a man for this job, according to the former M.K.'s statement to The Jerusalem Post, "entirely private."

It was the end of a mission in the party's service for a suitable mission in another field were forthcoming, it would be considered on its merits and, perhaps, accepted. The matter was thereby closed, as far as Mr. Shapira wished to comment on it.

SEVERAL newspapers, however, indicated over the week-end that the case had other implications. The resignation follows inquiries by high Mapai circles on the moral — quite distinct from the legal — position of a representative of a labour party who has become a "gambler" overnight by sheer good luck, or even foresight. Nobody at 110 Rehov Hachayon (Mapai Party Headquarters), at least not the Central Committee, took any official stand on the matter. Mr. Shapira, unlike Mr. Ezer Weizman, who was a member of the Central Committee, took any official stand on the matter. Mr. Shapira, unlike Mr. Ezer Weizman, who was a member of the Central Committee, took any official stand on the matter.

MAKING money on the stock exchange is not considered objectionable in the United States, but it looked rather dubious to many Mapai leaders. One of the reasons for Mr. Shapira's resignation was his involvement in the stock market. He had been accused of using his position as Attorney-General to gain financial advantage. This was a serious charge in a party that prided itself on its integrity.

BUT Mr. Shapira's case does not stand alone. It is part of a larger trend within the Mapai party. There is a growing concern among some members about the influence of money and power in politics. They feel that the party's principles are being compromised for the sake of personal gain.

BUT there is another aspect of the "Shapira case" which bears on a question of principle. It is the question of the role of the press in politics. The press has a duty to report the facts, but it must also be fair and balanced. It should not become a tool for political attack or propaganda.

Fresh Fighting In Morocco As Dubois Arrives

RABAT, Sunday (Reuters). — French officials announced tonight that at least 21 persons were killed and 200 wounded in the Rif mountains during one of the worst clashes between French and rebel forces since the October uprising.

French military sources said that the rebels, who are led by Mohammed V, had been driven back from the Rif mountains. They had been attacking French positions for several days. The French forces had managed to repel the attack and inflict heavy casualties on the rebels.

Mr. Andre Dubois arrived here today to take up his new post as Resident-General in succession to Gen. Boyer de Latour. His arrival preceded by three days that of Sultan Mohammed V, who is expected to return after two years of exile.

Ministers of the former Moroccan Administration were formally notified yesterday of their dismissal in a note sent to them by Premier-designate Fakhri Ben Slimane, which said that Sultan Mohammed had ordered them to sever all links with the Moroccan Administration.

Mr. Dubois is the fourth Resident-General here in a critical period marked by political crises and bloodshed. He is expected to bring a new sense of order and stability to the Moroccan Administration.

Hungary Announces Cabinet Reshuffle

VIENNA, Sunday (Reuters). — Hungary's Agriculture Minister, Dr. Ferenc Kerecsy, has been removed from office and replaced by a Deputy Premier, Budapest Radio announced today. Mr. Janos Kadar, Secretary of the Central Committee of the Hungarian Workers' (Communist) Party, has been appointed in his place.

This was one of the changes in the Hungarian Government announced today. It was part of a larger reshuffle of the cabinet, aimed at strengthening the government's position.

Army Provides New Argentine President

BUENOS AIRES, Sunday (Reuters). — Gen. Eduardo Lonardi resigned tonight and will be replaced as provisional President by Gen. Pedro Aramburu, Chief of the General Staff. The latter was to be sworn in tonight.

Statement read over the national radio stations said that the armed forces had accepted Gen. Lonardi's resignation and Gen. Aramburu's nomination. Gen. Aramburu would address a message to the nation after the swearing in ceremony, the announcement said.

An advisory committee of the heads of Argentina's armed forces and political parties delivered an ultimatum to Gen. Lonardi tonight, the terms not being disclosed. The new crisis reached a peak after the President yesterday called for tolerance towards those who supported the President's resignation.

Behind the crisis was Gen. Lonardi's action yesterday in splitting the Ministry of Interior and Justice into two separate departments and appointing Mr. Bernardo Velaz de Irigoyen, once Gen. Peron's Treasury Attorney, as Minister of Interior. Mr. Eduardo Basso resigned as head of the combined ministry.

As military leaders and politicians met to discuss the moves, demonstrators gathered outside the Congress building shouting "Basso yes, Lonardi no." They were dispersed by police.

All the judges of the Supreme Court resigned a few hours after the appointment of Mr. Irigoyen. Members of the Political Advisory Committee also objected that Mr. de Pablo was too nationalistic.

The major split was between Gen. Lonardi and his second-in-command, Vice-President Rear Admiral Isaac Rojas. The National Committee Assembly, called into urgent session by Mr. Aramburu, resigned early today apparently in protest over the right-wing Cabinet Ministers. An official announcement said that the Assembly resigned because two members of the newly formed Federal Democratic Union, an extreme right-wing group, and a Radical member, did not go along with the others.

It was expected that a three-man ruling junta would be formed, consisting of Gen. Aramburu, Admiral Rojas, and a representative of the Air Force. It was officially announced later that the junta would consist of Vice-President.

India Warns U.N. On South African Racism

NEW YORK, Sunday (Reuters). — An Indian Government memorandum to the United Nations declared that unless the racial policy of the South African Government is remedied immediately, it will result in a grave threat to world peace, it was learned today.

The "coloured people are determined not to be enslaved" the memorandum says. "The world will face a terrible race conflict if the U.N. cannot curb apartheid and other racial policies of the Union Government, with terrible consequences to the peace and progress of mankind."

82 Said Killed In Buraimi Clash

CAIRO, Sunday (Reuters). — The Saudi Arabian Deputy Foreign Minister, Sheikh Yusuf Yassin, today reported to the Arab League Political Committee that 82 inhabitants of the Buraimi oasis were "killed or wounded" in clashes with British-led forces on Friday.

On London, the Foreign Office spokesman said tonight that no information had been received about the clash.

Nasser Gratified At Eden's Proposals

CAIRO Radio yesterday quoted Premier Abdul Nasser as telling the London "News Chronicle" in an interview that Sir Anthony Eden's proposals for an Arab-Israeli armistice were "most gratifying."

The Premier pointed out that Sir Anthony Eden was the first Western Prime Minister to make such a statement and to "remember the U.N. resolution on Palestine." He added that this should be regarded as a constructive attitude on the part of the West.

British Jews Urged Arms for Israel

LONDON, Sunday (Reuters). — The Board of Deputies of British Jews today called for arms to be supplied to Israel to equal those flowing to the Arab states. In its monthly meeting here today, the Board called on the British Government, together with France and the U.S., to act in accordance with the 1948 partition declaration and to ensure a strict military balance between Israel and the Arabs.

The Board also appealed for cessation of the supply of arms to any Arab state which remains at war with Israel and is not left the Egyptian capital. Details were not made public, however.

Rosh Ha'ayin Raiders Tracked To Jordan Village

JERUSALEM Post Reporter

Jordan raiders stepped up their attacks on Israel over the week-end. Early yesterday morning they dynamited a house in Rosh Ha'ayin, and on Saturday they penetrated into the "Little Triangle" area, kidnapping a shepherd and stole goats.

The Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission investigation team, which followed the tracks of the saboteurs who placed T.N.T. charges under the houses of Rosh Ha'ayin, found that the prints led to the scene from the direction of the Jordan frontier and returned in the same direction.

The tracks of two infiltrators were traced to the Jordan border by police trackers yesterday. They led across the lines near the Jordan village of Rosh Ha'ayin. U.N. Observers and high-ranking police officers accompanied the trackers.

An investigation team at Rosh Ha'ayin found the house to be severely damaged, the walls cracked, and the dwelling itself about to collapse. The spokesman noted that in the three incidents which took place during the past week, all of them carried out by Jordanians, identical methods of sabotage were used.

Burns Not Less Optimistic On Return from Cairo

JERUSALEM Post Reporter

Major-General E.L.M. Burns, Chief of Staff of the Truce Supervision Organization, who returned to Jerusalem yesterday from Cairo, said that after meeting with Premier Abdul Nasser he was "more optimistic" than he had been before on the U.N. proposals for the Nitzana area.

Asked whether he had received any specific affirmative or negative replies from Premier Nasser, Gen. Burns said, "That depended on the questions I put to him."

Syria Not Concluding Pact with Iraq

SYRIA, Sunday (Reuters). — Syria will not conclude a military pact with Iraq, Premier Adnan Maliki announced in Damascus yesterday, the Arab News Agency reported.

He declared that there was no need for such a pact because the Arab League Security Pact "is quite sufficient to take care of the danger from within the Middle East."

B.G.'s Foreign Policy Statement Expected

Jerusalem Post Knesset Reporter

It is quite likely that Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion will make a foreign policy statement in the Knesset this week in which he will comment on the proposals of the British Prime Minister for peace in the Middle East.

This was indicated by the Government spokesman yesterday. He announced that the Cabinet yesterday discussed the British Premier's plan for ending the Arab-Israeli conflict. The full text of the Ben-Gurion statement was the basis of the discussion.

Egyptians Fire On Israel Patrol

Fire was opened from Egyptian positions yesterday morning on an Israel patrol near Nahal Oz, in the vicinity of the Gaza Strip, the Army spokesman announced.

French Arms To 'Silence' Cairo

PARIS, Sunday (INA). — Informed diplomats here said today that the resumption of small-scale French arms shipments to Egypt is "not a dead price to pay for the recent cessation of Egyptian press and radio attacks on France for her handling of the difficult North African situation."

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said that the Government's decision was simply the result of an "improvement in relations with Egypt and amounted to a fulfillment of contracts approved about a year ago after consultations with the U.S. and British Governments."

The spokesman left the impression that this time — although the Americans and British are trying to prevent an arms race in the Middle East — both Washington and London, possibly through Mr. Dulles and Mr. Macmillan in Geneva, assented to a resumption of the shipments. Such decisions, the spokesman said, are usually on a tripartite basis.

Kefauver Says U.S. Must Give Israel Arms

CHICAGO, Sunday. — Senator Estes Kefauver, speaking last night at an Israel Bond dinner after the Israel Foreign Minister, Mr. Moshe Sharett, declared that the U.S. must be ready to give Israel an opportunity of obtaining defensive arms if Soviet arms sales threaten to shift the Middle East balance of power. He said, "We cannot afford to give Israel an opportunity of obtaining defensive arms if Soviet arms sales threaten to shift the Middle East balance of power."

Mr. Sharett told the 2,000 persons attending the dinner, referring to President Eisenhower's statement opposing an arms race in the Middle East, "to deny an arms race as an excuse for not supplying arms to reduce the balance so dangerously upset, means to favour the would-be aggressor. I feel certain that the President could not have intended to advocate such a course. On the contrary, he expressly recognized the legitimacy of arms indispensable for defensive purposes."

Economic Ministers Discuss Production

The Ministerial Economic Committee met with some of their advisers last night in Jerusalem to discuss problems of production, supply, immigration and defence. It is believed that the discussions included wages of civil servants, the possibility of price increases, the Development Budget and the additional budget estimates to be presented shortly to the Knesset.

PERMANENT EGYPTIAN, GERMAN TRADE TIES

BERLIN, Sunday (Reuters). — Egypt and East Germany are to exchange official permanent trade representation with consular rights, the East German Deputy Premier and Minister for Foreign Trade, Mr. Heinrich Rau, said today. He had returned from a visit to India and Egypt by air this afternoon.

728 Jews From Algeria in Year

By MAURICE CARR

Jerusalem Post Correspondent

PARIS (By Airmail). — In the year ending September 30, 728 Jews emigrated from Algeria in Israel — twice as many as in the preceding year — it has been announced here by Mr. M. Beytan, Director of Relations with the Diaspora in the Jewish Agency who recently visited North Africa. The Algerian Zionist Federation has decided to organize its first concerted tour to Israel for the benefit of prospective middle-class settlers.

Throughout North Africa, Mr. Beytan reported, moneyed Jews are showing ever-greater interest in the possibilities of settlement in Israel.

Some 70,000 Jews in Morocco and 10,000 in Tunisia have been registered and been medically passed for aliyah. Immigration to Israel is proceeding smoothly and is unaffected by the latest political developments. The Jewish Agency has fixed the rate of immigration from Morocco at 4,000 persons a month for the immediate future.

Hebrew classes for adults as well as for children are being held, especially in Morocco, as Jews prepare for their new life in Israel.

The Zionist Federations of Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia have informed the Jewish Agency of their desire to hold a special conference next spring in North Africa. Jewish will consider a common line of policy for the forthcoming World Zionist Congress in Jerusalem.

Full-Length Comedy

Filmed in Natanya

TEL AVIV, Sunday. — Filming on a full-length feature being made in Israel. Tentatively called "Tale of a Traveller," it is a comedy describing the adventures of an old immigrant woman, resident of a Malabar old age home, who persistently ventures into the big world despite the warnings of friends. The part of the courageous adventures is played by Miriam Bernstein-Cohen, of the Chamber Theatre, but the opening scenes in the old age home, and the final return to its peaceful surroundings are filmed in the Malabar home in Natanya with the participation of its 70- and 80-year-old residents and singing by a septuagenarian choir. The film is being made jointly by Geva Films and the American film man, Mr. Larry Frisch. The production manager is Mr. Ben-Zvi Peretz, who had been responsible for "Hill 24 Doesn't Answer."

Hebrew and English versions of the film will be available and it is expected that they will be ready in the U.S. and Israel by March, 1956.

Locusts Advance North to Gedera

By Y. YA'ACOB, Jerusalem Post Reporter

REHOVOT, Sunday.—Advance guards of the red locust invasion have penetrated as far north as Gedera and Kibron by this afternoon. S.O.S. calls were received from many settlements in the south by the Plant Protection Department of the Ministry of Agriculture, who are fighting the pest on two principal fronts: in the Beit Govrin-Gal On area, and on the Yad Mordechai, Erez, and Nir-Am sector.

Large stretches of land, normally a dirty grey brown covered by brush and stubble, suddenly changed to a lurid rustling pink as the insects settled falling indiscriminately on potatoes, carrots, alfalfa, fruit trees, and rank weeds and stripping the fields and orchards. All the technical and chemical resources available have been mobilized together with men and women and children of the settlements to destroy millions of the voracious invaders.

Two Chin-Air planes reinforced by an Air Force Dakota were spraying under excellent conditions today, as the locusts came at night and stay put until the morning sun, reported today obligingly hid behind clouds until 11 a.m., rouses it to fly on.

Extensive damage was reported from the Hadera farm at Masamra, from Ra'ud, Yad Mordechai Mirim and Erez, and Gal On, Beit Govrin, and elsewhere. Though the defending forces claim to have inflicted tremendous casualties on the locusts, the full extent of their success can be assessed only after the war of attrition operations. Nevertheless, the affected locusts will stop feeding three or four hours after having been poisoned.

On New Front
The battle is now being concentrated mainly on the new front which opened in the Gedera area today. Mr. Gideon Cohen, the director of the Plant Protection Department, reported today. The Negro was reported clear of locusts, though some isolated pockets, no longer dangerous, may still be left. (Our Beersheba correspondent reports that locusts are still holding out in an area of 600 dunams in the western Negev.)

Two patrols made up of Department experts scouted the affected areas today, and Dr. Ismael's chiefs told The Jerusalem Post that they felt confident that everything was under control.

To all my FRIENDS, PATRONS and especially to MR. and MRS. HARRY LEVI, General Manager of the Sharon Hotel, Heratya.

Many thanks for the good wishes on the occasion of the reopening of the ISRAEL TOURING CLUB RESTAURANT, Jerusalem, under my management.

Locusts Advance North to Gedera

By Y. YA'ACOB, Jerusalem Post Reporter

REHOVOT, Sunday.—Advance guards of the red locust invasion have penetrated as far north as Gedera and Kibron by this afternoon. S.O.S. calls were received from many settlements in the south by the Plant Protection Department of the Ministry of Agriculture, who are fighting the pest on two principal fronts: in the Beit Govrin-Gal On area, and on the Yad Mordechai, Erez, and Nir-Am sector.

Large stretches of land, normally a dirty grey brown covered by brush and stubble, suddenly changed to a lurid rustling pink as the insects settled falling indiscriminately on potatoes, carrots, alfalfa, fruit trees, and rank weeds and stripping the fields and orchards. All the technical and chemical resources available have been mobilized together with men and women and children of the settlements to destroy millions of the voracious invaders.
